ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Dormitories:

The Cranbrook Residential Hall for Boys houses more than 150 students in four different, connected halls. Boys live in single rooms, encouraging the self-reliance we instill in all our students, and follow strict rules to ensure proper study habits, mutual respect between residents, comfort, and safety.

The girls' residential hall is located on the historic Kingswood campus and houses about 100 girls from all over the country and the world. Girls room in double rooms with shared bathrooms, meaning there are 2 to 4 residents per suite. In addition to the amenities one would expect in a hall—coin-operated laundry machines, kitchenettes, and locked entryways.

STUDENT LIFE

- At The Leelanau School, boarding significantly enriches students' lives. Here, "school" extends beyond the classroom, with 85% of student life occurring outside class. The campus serves as a dynamic learning environment where students explore their surroundings, develop self-awareness, and learn about themselves and their peers. The school provides supervision and structure, encouraging safe risks and personal growth. Parenting at Leelanau involves guiding and ensuring each child's well-being through communication, ethical behavior, and transparency. The school collaborates closely with parents to foster students' physical, cognitive, social, and emotional development.
